Mardeco International 10 year anniversary

Dutch couple Marcel and Danielle Eikenaar and their two young children arrived in New Zealand in 2001 under an entrepreneurs visa and set up kitchen hardware company Mardeco International Ltd in March that year.

Initially operating out of the garage of their rented Gulf Harbour home on the Whangaparoa Peninsula, they worked hard and within two years had not only fulfilled the criteria for permanent residency but also had grown the business to the point where they were required and able to build a warehouse and offices to accommodate their growing needs.

Today Mardeco imports and markets an ever expanding range of furniture, kitchen and joinery hardware and has grown to be a leading supplier of designer architectural hardware. The company stocks a wide range of high quality kitchen and cabinet handles manufactured in Europe, Asia and New Zealand and have over 230 different kitchen handle designs available in large quantities. Check their website www.mardeco.co.nz for the latest additions.

The company has a wide range of national and international clients ranging from kitchen and furniture manufacturers to hardware wholesalers and retailers. Architects and interior designers have specified their products in various projects throughout New Zealand, and in Australia, South Africa, The Netherlands, USA and the Pacific Islands.

Mardeco currently employs 4 full time and 3 part time staff and the key word for them all is service and an appreciation that the company's most vital asset is its customers.

"Without them, we would not and could not exist in business," says Marcel. "As a team we work hard to get the right product to the customer on time, every time."

"After ten successful years in business, staff and management at Mardeco would like to thank all our clients for their custom. We are confident about the future and look forward to serving you in the upcoming years."
